Dear Professor Li,

I am pleased to invite you, Professor Li Xiaoyun, to visit the African Studies Program at Georgetown University during the weeks of April 14-19, 2024. During your stay, you are invited to give a talk on development cooperation and to have academic exchanges with our colleagues here. We understand that all costs related to the visit will be self-financed.

The African Studies Program at the Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service is now in its 44th year. The Program seeks to foster an interdisciplinary understanding of a range of issues that face the African continent today, from politics and economic development, conflict management and resolution, governance, public health and a variety of others, within the historical context.
